The lyrics are: Two more months 'til Med - di - care and I'll be fly - ing high My doc - tor bills will all be free un - til the day I die No more work, no more toil I've got to stay a - live 'cause I've been put - ting mo - ney in since nine - teen six - ty five

I was anxious to get started so I called up on the phone
I said I've worked hard all my life for a family and a home
Now I want to sign up for the free stuff that I'm owed
She said just wait a minute there's a few things you should know

First you'll need to pay a premium for Part A and Part B
You'll want your medications so you better get part D
To tell the truth that's not enough it's catch it as catch can
To get you through a crunch you'll need a supplemental plan

I said how much will this all cost as I braced against the door
She said about three hundred bucks a month but wait, there's more
You'll need to pay deductibles, co-insurance and co-pays
I hope you've saved some money up for your remaining days

It's two more months 'til Medicare and I'll be flying high
My doctor bills will all be free until the day I die
No more work, no more toil that's what they told us all
But I've been paying money in as long as I recall

I guess I'll have to get a job as a Walmart greeter
'cause I'll be paying money in until I meet Saint Peter
